Dear Kiyomi,

This year marks 40 years since the Fund was created in 1985. Over the past four decades, AustralianSuper has grown to become the country's largest super fund¹, helping millions of members like you achieve their best financial position in retirement. We take very seriously the trust you place in us. Thank you for your continued membership.

Your 2025 annual statement

Your annual statement for the financial year ending 30 June 2025 provides a detailed summary of your account, including contributions, investment performance, insurance coverage and the fees and costs you pay as a member.

Despite a year shaped by geopolitical tensions and global market volatility, our flagship Balanced investment option delivered a return of 9.52% for the year to 30 June 2025. Over the past 10 years, it has achieved an average annual return of 7.94%, reflecting the strength of the Fund as a top long-term performer.²

Navigating investment market volatility

We understand that market ups and downs can be unsettling, but they're a normal part of investing. It's important to remember that super is a long-term investment, and short-term fluctuations are part of this journey. Our experienced, global investment team actively manages your money through all market conditions, carefully balancing growth opportunities with risk.

Thanks to our global scale and in-house investment expertise, we're able to access opportunities worldwide that may not be available to individual members or smaller funds. To learn more about our investment performance and outlook, visit australiansuper.com/investments.

Supporting you at every stage

No matter where you are on your path to retirement, we're committed to making every interaction with us simple and easy. We know that great service helps you get the most from your super. Over the past year, we've invested more than $200 million to enhance the support and services we provide, including:

- Expanding our member services team to assist our growing membership and resolve complaints faster.
- Strengthening member data security, building on the cybersecurity measures we already have in place and expanding multi-factor authentication for more protection on your account.
- Launching a new Bereavement Centre to provide members' families greater care and faster outcomes when they make a claim.

- Streamlining the insurance claims process by enabling online claim lodgement and tracking for eligible disability claims.
- Enhancing our mobile app and digital tools to help you manage your super on the go.
- Introducing new educational resources, webinars, and calculators to help you make informed decisions about your retirement savings.

And we're not stopping there. We continue to invest in new technology and services. We want every dollar we spend to work hard for you – delivering better value and experience while keeping administration fees low. Currently, our administration fees remain among the lowest in the industry³ – helping more of your money stay invested and working for your future.

Looking ahead

Since day one, our purpose has been to help you achieve your best financial position in retirement. That commitment remains as strong today as it was 40 years ago.

Whatever your path to retirement, it's a privilege to be on this journey with you, and we look forward to continuing to support you in the years ahead.

If you have any questions or would like to learn more about your super, please visit australiansuper.com or contact us directly.

How investment option returns are calculated

AustralianSuper declares a daily crediting rate based on the performance of each option (after allowing for investment fees and costs, transaction costs and taxes, and the percentage-based administration fee deducted from returns from 1 April 2020 to 2 September 2022). Returns are determined daily and applied to your account balance:

- at 30 June each year
- when you change investment options
- when you make a partial withdrawal, or
- when you close your account.

If you'd like to know the crediting rates that applied for each day of the period, or for more information about all investment options, visit australiansuper.com/investments

You can view an estimate of your current balance at any time, taking into account all transactions and investment returns, by logging into your account at australiansuper.com/login

If you don't have any insurance cover, in the event of your death or disablement the benefit payable will be equal to your account balance.

Contributions to your account

Under Superannuation Guarantee (SG laws) for the year ended 30 June 2025, employers must pay at least 11.5% of an eligible employee's salary for ordinary hours of work into super.

Employers are legally required to make SG contributions into your super account at least every 3 months - by 28 October, 28 January, 28 April, and 28 July. Having a weekly, fortnightly, or monthly super payment amount listed on your pay slip doesn't always mean your employer has made this payment to your super account.

Employers may also make additional contributions over and above SG contributions as part of your employment agreement. You can check that your super contributions from your employer are correct by logging into your account or via the app.

You can also make extra contributions to your account, either from your before-tax or after-tax salary.

Contributions made from your after-tax salary (including spouse contributions) generally won't be taxed again, either when paid into your super account or withdrawn on retirement.

Contributions made from your before-tax salary (including SG and additional employer contributions, salary sacrifice and income protection contributions) are usually subject to 15% contributions tax.

If you earn more than $250,000 p.a. or have not provided your TFN or go over the contribution caps extra taxes will apply.

Outstanding contribution payments

When super payments from participating employers are overdue, AustralianSuper issues written communication to employers. If these contributions are not received following written communication, we may refer the matter for debt collection.

Contribution caps

The government limits (or caps) the amounts of before-tax (concessional) and after-tax (non-concessional) contributions you can make to super. If you have more than one super fund, the contribution caps apply to all contributions made across all of your super funds. Contributions made into other AustralianSuper accounts you may hold or to other super funds are not included in the table below.

Year ended 30 June 2025	Contribution cap	Contributions received ³
Before-tax (concessional) contributions ¹	$30,000	$7,398.34
After-tax (non-concessional) contributions ²	$120,000	$0.00

¹ You may be able to make extra before-tax contributions by carrying forward unused cap amounts from up to the previous 5 years, if certain conditions are met.

² You may be able to make extra after-tax contributions, by bringing forward the equivalent of up to 2 years of your annual after-tax contributions cap from future years, in a single financial year, if certain conditions are met.

³ Refer to Your transaction summary table. Before-tax (concessional) contributions received include employer SG, employer additional, member before-tax, and member after-tax contributions where we have processed your notice of intent to claim a tax deduction on a personal contribution before this statement was prepared.

If you have made personal contributions during the statement period and have not exceeded your before-tax contribution cap, you may be able to claim a tax deduction - for more details visit australiansuper.com/ClaimTaxDeduction

If you go over either your before-tax and/or your after-tax contributions caps the Australian Tax Office (ATO) will notify you and give you the option to withdraw up to 85% of your excess before-tax contributions or all of your after-tax contributions and 85% of your associated earnings. Any excess before-tax contributions not released count towards your after-tax contributions cap. If you go over the limits and don't withdraw the excess, you will need to pay extra tax.

For up-to-date information on contributions received for the year ended 30 June 2025 log into your account at australiansuper.com

This amount has been deducted directly from your account (reflected in the transactions listed on this statement under Your transaction summary).

Fees and costs deducted from your investment -$9.05

This approximate amount has been deducted from your investment and covers amounts that have reduced the return on your investment and that are not reflected as transactions listed on this statement.

This amount comprises:

Investment fees and costs	-$7.72
Transaction costs	-$0.90
Administration costs paid from reserves	-$0.43

TOTAL FEES AND COSTS YOU PAID -$74.44

This approximate amount includes all fees and costs that affected your investment during the period.

If your account balance for a product is less than $6,000 as at 30 June 2025, certain fees and costs charged to you in relation to the administration and investment of your account are capped at 3% of the account balance. Any amount charged in excess of that cap has been refunded and shown in Your transaction summary as a Low balance fee cap refund which has reduced the amount of Fees deducted directly from your account.

Additional explanation of fees and costs

Fees deducted directly from your account

This amount includes Flat and Asset-based administration fees and any fees and costs you paid for additional services which may include:

- Advice fees – fees for financial advice relating to your AustralianSuper account. Deducted directly from your account when your fee consent is processed, or from your Member Direct Cash account in arrears on the first business day following the end of the month or quarter.
- Insurance fees – insurance costs will apply if you have insurance cover as part of your super.

Fees and costs deducted from your investments

Some fees and costs do not appear in Your transaction summary as they are not deducted directly from your account. These include:

- Investment fees and costs and Transaction costs, which are deducted from pre-tax investment returns and reflected in the daily crediting rate of the relevant PreMixed or DIY Mix investment option.
- Administration costs paid from reserves that are not otherwise charged as administration fees, which have reduced the reserve balance held by the Fund to cover future administration costs.

Tax deductions

When AustralianSuper has claimed a tax deduction, you may have benefited as follows:

- Flat and Asset-based administration fees: A 15% tax benefit was paid directly into your account on the last Friday of each month.
- Investment fees and costs and Transaction costs: Claimed as a deduction against taxable investment income and included in the daily crediting rate for the relevant investment option.
